

Gossip.com

By: Marcia Fine

Chapter 3

Presented By

RUMORS and Innuendos

by

Laurence Duvall

So here we are, citizens of the most expensive real estate per capita in the nation, and who shows up wearing a tres chic but very old black dress? Why the Queen Mother of Scottsdale, Linda Rose! Now you must be as curious as I was as to why, with all her investments, she looked like she had just rolled out of the upper bunk of a cheap cruise ship. Seems the Concorde lost her luggage and her house keys were in the Louis Vuitton. She didn't want to miss the Grand Opening of Starfish, the hottest new club this side of L.A.! So, loyal to her friends and other Eurotrash notables lining the walls, she makes an appearance. Personally, I didn't want to stand next to her. Next time, dahlin', take a bath! I mean, it's okay to miss an event, Tootsie. That's what happens when you're looking for Mr. Rose Number Three. Could someone please tell me why this woman needs another hubby? It ain't the money, sister. Rumor has it Miss Rose has a voracious appetite. Don't get it? Think Catherine the Great. Also at the Starfish opening: Maureen Matteson sporting a new bauble. I love those diamonds. You know my theory, ladies...the bigger the diamond, the louder the screamer. Let me tell you, sweetheart, we've got some Tonsil Tenors right here! Anyway, Miss Maureen returned from Costa Rica with a new hubby. Every woman has a right to marry younger so stop the snickering. Senor Enrico Armadao Gonzales Guterrez is Very Handsome. Believe me, I notice these things... Back to the opening. The decor, a fabulous array of cream and aubergine designs, highlighted our two very own favorite designers, Craig Felborne and Hyman Katz. A splendiferous job! Seating was comfy; the drinks generous; and the aquarium the length of the bar, unique. Chatted with Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Augustine, sexy model Bridgit, her stunning escort, Jason, and Mrs. Edward Macintyre. No celebs for this one, although I know they did try to get one of the McGuire sisters... Guess what hot new video is getting the best ratings? The one from the Palace Resort. One of our visiting dignitaries, a lady who has made her millions by Divorcing Well, was caught on the elevator video security system doing to one of our top notch CEOs--think consumables--what Monica L. was given immunity for. Oy vey! Is there no end to scandal? Not here in my own little nest in The Valley of the Sun. That's it for this week, my honeys. Keep clean, stay out of the rays, and call me with the scoop.